

Summer School Credit

The School Department will recognize students who attend summer school for the making up of up to two courses following failure of those courses in the prior academic year. Said summer school will be a school approved by the State Department of Education. The student must pass the course(s) to receive credit.

A notation of course achievement will be made on the student's accumulative record and appropriate credit will be given for passing the course(s). However, grades for those courses are not factored into the student's grade point average (GPA) and will not count toward academic eligibility for athletics or extracurricular clubs.

Students who fulfill graduation requirements during the summer following their senior year will be given a diploma upon presentation of a transcript from the school or program through which they took the course(s), provided that such school or program shall be determined to be in compliance with the then current and applicable regulations and requirements of the Rhode Island Department of Education, including without limitation, the Rhode Island Diploma System and any applicable requirements for issuance of a Rhode Island Regents' (approved) Diploma.

Students who wish to take summer courses, not for make up, will have said summer courses noted on their record as completing that particular assignment.
